

Mark Petry

Foreign Agricultural Service Vice President

Mark Petry, a member of USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service since 1998, is the deputy director of the New Technologies and Production Methods Division.

He has served as an Agricultural Attaché and the Director of the USDA Intellectual Property Rights Office at U.S. Embassy Beijing, as an Agricultural Attaché at U.S. Embassy Moscow and in the European Union

Trade Policy Division.

He grew up in Fountain City, Indiana and earned a Bachelor's degree in environmental science from Purdue University and Master's degrees in agricultural economics and food safety from Purdue University and Michigan State University, respectively. A married father of two, Petry is fluent in English, Russian, Ukrainian and Mandarin.