U.S. State Department/USAID

THE FOREIGN SERVICE JOURNAL
 SEPTEMBER 2017

The Foreign Service Journal delivers your message to 30,000 members of the American Foreign Service community. The FSJ reaches U.S. embassy employees and their family members seeking education options, as well as students of international affairs. The Journal is sent via diplomatic pouch to our highly mobile readers at 295 U.S. embassies and consulates worldwide. These names, addresses and emails are not available elsewhere due to the security status of our members.

Our state-of-the-art website (www.afsa.org) contains resources for members of the Foreign Service and information to educate the American public about the vital function of U.S. diplomacy. The AFSA website receives 230,000 unique visitors annually.

OUR READERS

ARE POST-SECONDARY EDUCATION CONSUMERS.

Families have college-age dependents, highschoolers with advanced standing and family members who want to pursue higher education for professional advancement or personal enrichment.

HAVE ACCESS TO STATE DEPT. FELLOWSHIPS FOR ADULT DEPENDENTS.

$200,000 in Professional Development Fellowships funding is available for family members maintaining, enhancing or developing professional skills.

Cover Story

Training the Next Generation of Diplomats

SEPT 2017

Article by Ambassador (ret.) Edward "Skip" Gnehm

Ambassador Gnehm writes: "In reflecting on what it means to teach diplomacy, a stark conclusion is that there is, at its core, a combination of practical skills that define an effective diplomat. Integrating the full range of skills necessary for a successful career in diplomacy into university curricula is, therefore, a necessary albeit challenging endeavor."

Amb. Gnehm's distinguished 36-year career in the U.S. Foreign Service includes three ambassadorships and many high-level positions at the State and Defense Departments.
